CONCEPT

Human Rights Days I is the first annual international conference on human rights organised by the Central European Academy. The inaugural conference in the annual series of Human Rights Days is marked by the occasion of the 75th anniversary of the signing of the European Convention on Human Rights in Rome. Since its adoption in 1950 and entry into force in 1953, the Convention stands as a cornerstone in the protection of human rights in Europe, however, the interpretation of the rights guaranteed therein evolved significantly, thanks to the development of the jurisprudence of the European Court of Human Rights.

Over the past decades, the Court has faced several unprecedented challenges that required it to interpret the Convention as a living instrument in the light of present-day conditions. This dynamic approach has allowed the Court to address emerging human rights issues, including those arising from technological advancements, environmental concerns, and evolving societal norms. Through its case law, the Court has not only attempted to reinforce fundamental rights but also to adapt its interpretations to ensure the Convention remains relevant in an ever-changing legal and geopolitical landscape.

As the European human rights system faces new challenges, the role of the Court remains as crucial as ever. The Human Rights Days I conference provides a platform for distinguished academics, young scholars, and practitioners to reflect on these developments and discuss the future of human rights protection in Europe. The inaugural conference, held on 4–5 April 2025, holds special importance as the speakers of the conference will be Judges of the Court. It is, therefore, an honour for the Central European Academy to organise such an illustrious and high-level event in Budapest, at the 75th anniversary of the adoption of the European Convention on Human Rights.
